LANCASTER.

J. Mort Rothwell went to Louisville Friday night and will go from there to the convention at Frankfort on Wednesday.

Capt. W. J. Kinnaird, cashier of the Manufacturers Bank at Middlesboro, was here last week visiting relatives and friends.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Homer G. Price, who was raised here, now mail messenger from Louisville to Knoxville, on June 1st, to Miss Rosa Allen Ham, a popular young lady of the last named city.

The Knights of Pythias have purchased the lot on Lexington Avenue belonging to West & Kinnaird near the public square for $400. It is 200 feet deep with a front of 50 feet and they will build a hall and an opera house.

A handsome National flag was unfurled on Saturday on top of the electric light pole in Central Park. The patriotic are enthusiastic over it and the brilliant achievements suggested by its appearance remind us of the object for which it was designed and the allegiance due by every citizen to a common government.

In accordance with the provisions of the new anti-mob law, J. A. Doty, president of the Richmond turnpike, made affidavit before Judge Burnside on Friday that he had reasonable grounds to believe that the double gate, which had been destroyed and which he had replaced, would be again destroyed. The judge ordered Sheriff T. B. Robinson to summon six men and put them on duty at once. The men summoned as guards are: John Doty, E. G. Doty, J. L. Engleman, J. W. Walker, J. W. Francis and S. M. Davis, the former gate-keeper. So we have law on one side and anarchy on the other waiting to see the result. This is the first proceeding under the new law and the authorities will summon as many men as the law permits, and, if necessary, bankrupt the county in order to maintain the dignity of the law. It is believed that the gates which have been abandoned will be re-opened and guards placed over them, as in the case mentioned. This seems to be the proper course to pursue until the question of issuing bonds is settled in November.

The democratic convention on Saturday was presided over by George T. Farris and Letcher Owsley was made secretary. Capt. I. M. Dunn, J. M. Farris, Dave Ross, T. B. Robinson, G. B. Swinebroad and J. M. Denny were appointed a committee on resolutions. During their absence Letcher Owsley made an enthusiastic speech. A fair crowd was in attendance and their earnestness indicated that they are not vanquished but ready for another fray. They reaffirmed allegiance to the principles of the democratic party as enunciated in the Chicago platform of 1896, and instructed the delegates to the Frankfort convention to vote as a unit for our worthy townsman, W. B. Mason, for the nomination for the office of clerk of the court of appeals. The delegates are Wm. Burton, Jr., I. M. Dunn, G. T. Farris, T. E. Adams, T. H. Robinson and Ike Arnold, and alternates R. H. Tomlinson, J. E. Robinson, J. W. Miller, Letcher Owsley, J. Mort Rothwell and W. I. Williams. Chairman Farris offered a strong resolution endorsing the Louisville Dispatch, which was unanimously adopted.

A large crowd was in town Sunday and many graves in our beautiful cemetery were made so many altars upon which beautiful flowers were profusely spread, the delicious odor of which ascended as sweet incense, manifesting the undying love and affection so tenderly held for departed friends, relatives, brothers and comrades. Sweet strains of music, dispensed by the Lancaster Concert Band, blending with sweet odors, made the occasion feebly typical of the happy abode which awaits those who faint not in well-doing. The annual address, delivered by Mr. G. B. Swinebroad, was eminently appropriate, replete with oratory of the highest type, and would have done credit to many who are far advanced in years. The ceremonies of the Knights of Pythias at the court-house and their march to the cemetery were very impressive. The floral designs were so elegantly and artistically prepared that an attempt at description would prove to be futile. In these memorial services we find the strongest proof of an existence and a re-union beyond the confines of time. The desire for a re-union will certainly be satisfied, or else God would be as capricious mortal in giving us a hope which could not be realized. Appropriate remarks were made by Elder George Gowen at the grave of Gen. W. J. Landrum and by L. L. Walker at graves of departed knights.

A freight train ran down a passenger train, killing nine people and injuring many others, near Salt Lake City.

The action of that Western sheriff who hanged himself shows what a confirmed habit will bring a man to.

DOUBLE SPRINGS.

DECORATION DAY DRAWS 1,200 TO 1,500 PEOPLE TO A TIME-HONORED CHURCH.

In the southern portion of Lincoln was located 78 years ago Old Double Springs church. In 1819 Mr. J. L. Gooch, grandfather of Hon. L. G. Gooch, gave four acres of ground upon which a house of worship was to be erected, the building, of course, to occupy only a limited portion of the area. The structure then erected, after the manner of Solomon's Temple, noiselessly, stands there to-day, with the same old 78-year-old flooring, planned down by wooden pegs made by hands now silent in the cold grave, while the roof still has the wooden pins that followed glimlet holes to their present position—think of it, 78 years ago. In Southern Lincoln there are hundreds of people that tenderly love Old Double Springs church. Within its walls many hundreds, may be thousands, have been made to see the error of their way through the foolishness of preaching and been made to rejoice by finding Him who takes away the sins of sinners.

Within the shadow, almost, of this church the interesting services and ceremonies were conducted Sunday that drew an assembly estimated at 1,200 to 1,500. At 9 o'clock the Masons met at Masonic Hall. In New Waynesburg, marched to Old Waynesburg Cemetery a half-mile distant, decorated graves of deceased brothers, thence to Double Springs Cemetery, of a similar distance, where flowers were also in rich profusion strewn upon the graves of those who had joined the silent throng beyond the mystic river of death. In the latter city of the dead sleeps the first Worshipful Master of Waynesburg Masonic lodge, J. W. Griffin, the tombstone of whom tells that he died in 1851. At his grave the remarks of Rev. W. R. Davidson, master of ceremonies, were peculiarly touching.

The decoration ceremonies through with, the great throng swayed to the speakers' stand in the beautiful woodland near the church, where seats to accommodate only about 500 had been arranged, and hence several hundred had to sit on the ground and let their legs hang over. Rev. A. J. Pike, of Brookfield, who was to have delivered an address on Masonry, was not present. Rev. W. R. Davidson briefly spoke of the oldest of Orders, stating that he never knew how proud he was of being a Mason until he had visited the Masonic Widows and Orphans Home at Louisville. In a speech of about 20 minutes he stated some beautiful truths pertaining to Masonry, as did Rev. Ira Partin, of Preachersville, and Rev. Dr. J. Wendell Blackburn, of Monticello. The great crowd seemed to catch every word of each speaker and were apparently regretful that each speech on so excellent a subject was not prolonged.

The dinner on the grounds was superabundant. It was no "close communion" business, but bread was broken together, regardless of age, sex, previous or present condition, and if any man, woman or child went home hungry 'twas because he or she was too bashful to accept what was handed to her or him.

After dinner the old folks' meeting was held, and the "Old Time Religion" sung by gray-haired grandmothers and grandfathers in a manner characteristic of the long ago, when moral world was held higher than royal blood. Rev. Buck Taylor, of Somerset, preached the sermon for the old folks, and as he is in the 70s, he stated at the onset that it would probably be his last sermon to that people, whom he loves. As he warmed up to his subject and feelingly referred to his pastorate at this old church some 20 years ago, many handkerchiefs became visible and good old Christian women and men shed tears of joy, the commingling being touching in the extreme. When finally the good old preacher requested that "Am I a Soldier of the Cross?" be sung and the hand of brotherly love extended, all sought his friendly grasp and a general hand-shaking followed, during which tears trickled down the wrinkled faces as freely as I ever saw them at a gathering of Christian people.

Rev. Dr. Blackburn then preached a sermon about 20 minutes in length from the subject "Just a Little While" which was indeed a practical one and which I am sure every one will remember who heard it. He was born in Richmond, Va., sufficiently long ago to be in possession of silvery locks and has almost traveled the wide world over. He says something, as the saying goes, every time he opens his mouth and is entertaining in the highest degree. He is a first cousin of the illustrious Jo C. S. Blackburn.

The music of the occasion was splendid. On the stand were the choir and organ and the good songs that were made to so melodiously ring must be still reverberating in the adjacent hills and dells. Miss Eva Gooch, a strikingly handsome young lady and an accomplished musician, daughter of Mr. Steven Gooch, was the organist, while Mr. George F. Thompson lead the singing. The three beautiful daughters of Mr. E. B. Caldwell, Jr., sang two songs as a trio, which only has to be heard to be appreciated. Each of them is peculiarly gifted in the incomparable accomplishment of song, or art divine, while at the same time they are pictures of health and loveliness. He must be very proud of them, as well as of his boys. Among the hospitable people of Southern Lincoln, Bro. Caldwell stands in the front row. He is what the people designate a practical Christian and is very popular as a necessary consequence. He is Master of the Waynesburg Masonic lodge.

In reverting to the old church I will state that the first pastor there, 78 years ago, was Rev. Stephen Colyer. The membership now numbers 302 and Rev. W. R. Davidson is pastor. The new church at New Waynesburg is now the place of worship, but the old building should be allowed to stand unmolested for the good it has done.

At the old folks' meeting I noticed closest to the stand the gray hairs of Messrs. Jonathan Aker, Henderson Young, Ellison Padgett, Marshal Morgan, L. F. Reynolds, Willis Padgett, D. O. Gooch, Logan and Green Reynolds, Clark Reynolds, Messrs. Ernie Padgett, Aaron Singleton, N. S. Reynolds, Isaac Hubble, Harlin Singleton, and many others.

Every portion of the county was represented and a blind man couldn't have helped seeing just lots of pretty girls. Among the handsome ladies from Kingsville I noticed Mrs. J. M. McCarty, who is one of the most magnificent specimens of womanhood I ever saw.

Mr. Bud Reynolds, deputy sheriff, and the excellent Waynesburg correspondent of this paper, was making himself generally useful the whole day through, not in keeping order, for better never prevailed, but in extending courtesies in the lavish manner characteristic of him and the name of Reynolds.

There are in Double Springs church section about 150 Gooches and fully that many Padgetts.

Among the graves in New Waynesburg Cemetery are those of Littleton Salliers, who fought in the revolutionary war; Wm. Stringer in the war with Mexico, and George Williams, in the war of 1812. The latter was the father of Mr. Reuben Williams.

Taken as a whole, the day was one of the biggest in the history of Southern Lincoln. The drive of nearly 40 miles the round trip thither was through scenery surpassingly beautiful. The hills and dales, covered with wild flowers, present a variegated hue, while music-throated birds entranced the listening air. As we passed by the famous Halls Gap, down the steep cliff of which Larken Edge, the "Flower of the Year," 4 horses and a stage full of passengers tumbled 21 years ago, I recalled the incident and still wondered why nobody was hurled into eternity that dark night, though no one was hurt. This circumstance will be remembered by three-fourths of the people of Lincoln. It was impressed upon their minds by a graphic description at that time in the INTERIOR JOURNAL, of which Mr. F. J. Campbell was then editor. If Artist A. J. Earp, or some other good sort of a fellow, could put on canvas the picture now presented from the summit of Halls Gap, with the miniature mountains on either side and Stanford, Lancaster and Danville in the background, everybody in this and adjoining county would want one, it would be a magnificent ornament in any household.

That Baptist flock toward water like ducks, was practically demonstrated in the way they gathered around the sparkling, cool, crystal waters of Double Springs all the day long Sunday.

One of the "talkiest" women in the world is Mrs. Isaac Hubble, mother-in-law of Mr. E. B. Caldwell, Jr. I presume the fact could be easily established that she talks in her sleep—I know she never sleeps a minute while awake. It is refreshing to be in her presence. She makes the most of life and seems happy as the birds of the air.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Singleton had the prettiest baby on the grounds Sunday. Speaking of babies reminds me that the good people of the Double Springs section are especially obedient to the Biblical injunction to replenish the earth. Babies were abundant and the soothing lullaby of an affectionate mother in many instances prevailed, while the child itself seemed to have a voice in the matter.

Remembering the expression of the late Judge W. O. Hansford, during a heated political campaign, when in a speech he said that "democrats are so thick in Lincoln that you can shake any bush you will and many will fall out," I am persuaded to state, since Sunday's meanderings, that the same expression can be applied in reference to Masons the whole world over.

The hospitable people of Southern Lincoln enjoy life, are among the best this great land of ours produces and politically or otherwise, what they ask for they should receive.

MATRIMONIAL.

Frank Farmer, aged 17, and Miss Lola Walt, 13, eloped from Penn. Ind., to Indianapolis and were married.

E. M. Mix, aged 68, despondent over the loss of his wife, laid on her grave and swallowed enough morphine to kill him.

John L. Davis, a moonshiner, who has six living wives and 39 children, was sentenced to 14 months' imprisonment at Raleigh, N. C., for violating the internal revenue laws.

The Louisville Times heads off the home papers of the young lady by publishing the following: Miss Ellen Owsley, of Lancaster, one of the most beautiful girls in the State, is in the city as the guest of Miss Chastine McGregor. Miss Owsley is here for the purpose of selecting her trousseau, as she will be married in June to Mr. Will R. Cook, of Lancaster. Miss Owsley is widely known throughout the State and has represented Kentucky on various occasions in other States. She is a member of a most distinguished family and is a lovely young woman. Mr. Cook is a popular young man and in every way worthy of so charming a woman.

Miss Owsley returned from Louisville Saturday, accompanied by Miss Mary Robertson, of Elizabethtown. The marriage is fixed for June 10.

RELIGIOUS.

The Winchester Presbyterian meeting closed with 14 additions.

The Southern Presbyterian General Assembly adjourned to meet next year at New Orleans.

The State Sunday school convention for Kentucky, will meet at Harrodsburg June 22, for three days' session.

The first Mormon church erected in Kentucky will be dedicated in June. It is on the dividing line between Green and Metcalfe counties.

In Santa Rosa, Cal., there is a Baptist church built entirely of the wood of a single redwood tree. Even the roof was made of the same tree, and there were 60,000 shingles left. The church seats 200 people.

Commander Booth Tucker, of the Salvation army, has been convicted in New York of maintaining a disorderly house. All-night meetings were too much for the neighbors. The maximum fine is $500 and imprisonment for one year.

The 17th annual meeting of the Kentucky Christian Convention will be held at the Broadway Christian church Louisville, June 23-25. Elder J. S. Kendrick, of Danville, is down for an address. The 14th annual convention of the W. B. M. will be held at same church June 21-22.

The Baptist Recorder is alarmed at the success of Mormon evangelists in this section and devotes a column or so to show that "They are no more Christians than are the Mohammedans, whom in many respects they resemble. They are practically polytheists. They believe in a supreme ruler, but they believe in the divinity of Mahomet, Joseph Smith, Brigham Young and others. The functions of these subordinate divinities cannot properly be described in a religious paper. Let every legitimate effort be made to protect the people from being seduced by the emissaries of that so-called church."

The editor of the Mercury is 50 years old to-day, and he has seen enough of this world to make a good sized history. He has served 18 years in the Kentucky Legislature and gone through a civil war, suffered defeat many times and won few victories still he has no grounds for complaint, but hopes to have lots of the good things of this life yet. We wish every reader of the Mercury health, wealth and happiness, the first and last of which we have had in abundance, while we have never sought after the second.—G. R. Keller in Carlisle Mercury.

Less than 100 years ago Spain was the owner of more than two-thirds of the territory of the United States, all of the West India islands and nearly all of South America but she soon went down any of it.

The mayor of Oakman, Ala., was shot to death. A clerk in his store was fatally wounded, a customer was seriously injured and a drunken fellow who caused the trouble was himself killed.

George Sage, a nephew of Russell Sage, the millionaire, died in the poorhouse at Joliet, Ill. He wrote several letters to his uncle asking assistance, but none of them were answered.

An ice war at Georgetown has reduced the price to 10 cents per 100 pounds, but it is at a time when nobody cares especially to get any further frozen than he is.

STANFORD, KY., - JUNE 1, 1897

W. P. WALTON.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Circuit Judge, M. C. SAUFLEY.
County Attorney, J. S. OWSELEY, Jr.
Representative, M. F. NORTH.
County Judge, J. E. LYNN.
County Clerk, GEO. B. COOPER.
County Attorney, HARVEY HELM.
Circuit Clerk, J. F. HOLDAM.
Sheriff, SAML. M. OWENS.
Jailer, GEO. W. DEBORD.
Assessor, C. G. BAKER.
Census, WM. L. ANDERSON.
Supt. Schools, GARLAND SINGLETON.

MOST of the county conventions Saturday endorsed the Chicago platform and most of them instructed for one or the other of the six candidates for appellate clerk, though there are enough uninstructed voters and the candidates are so well bunched as to leave the question of the nomination very much in doubt. R. L. Greene, of Bracken, leads in the instructed vote with 252 first and 44 second instructions; S. J. Shackelford, of Daviess, has 191 first and 39 second instructions; S. King Ford, of Montgomery, 153 first and 10 second; Gus W. Richardson, of Meade, 233 first and 43 second; W. B. Mason, of Garrard, 104 first and 26 second, and J. D. Watson, of Graves, 145 first and 58 second. Mr. Mason received first instructions in Lincoln, 8; Boyle, 6; Madison, 14; Bell, 13; Knox, 4; Mercer, 9; Garrard, 6; Rockcastle, 4; Henry, 11; Jessamine, 7; Oldham, 5; Shelby, 13 and others. He has second instructions in Wayne, 6; Henderson, 20; total, 26.

As there are 1,005 votes it will be seen how far short of a majority any candidate has. It will be a fierce battle for supremacy and as Gov. James B. McCreary will manage the fight for Mr. Mason we have much hope that he will come out winner, though the contest seems to lie between Green and Shackelford, with the chances in favor of the former. The convention will assemble at Frankfort to-morrow.

ON application of Judge Gudgeon, of Bath, Gov. Bradley sent the Lexington company of State Guards to Owensville to preserve order at the examining trial of turnpike raiders and prevent the burning of the town, as had been threatened. As it turned out there was no necessity for the soldiers, but out of the abundance of caution there is safety and security from lawless deed. Besides, there is nothing like the soldiery to overawe and frighten anarchists and other law defiers. One wounded raider waived examination and was held to circuit court in $3,500 and the bail of Johnson, the leader, was also fixed at the same. The other men captured since were to have their examinations yesterday. Judge Gudgeon continues to demonstrate that he is the right man in the right place and with a sheriff to back him who is jealous of his oath, he will give the raiders such a check that it will be felt to the remotest county in which they have sympathizers.

There are many rumors of an outbreak by the raiders, but they will not run the risk of having their heads shot off. Out of abundance of caution, however, the troops may remain several days.

WE have no admiration for men of Senator Tillman's stripe, but we always give even the devil his due. The one-eyed South Carolinian introduced a resolution in the Senate Friday for the appointment of a special committee to inquire into reports of speculation by Senators in sugar stock and made a strong speech in support of it, during which he said that the republican members of the finance commission are under the cloud of suspicion of being in close touch with the sugar magnates of New York and that all of the committee profited pecuniarily by its action. Senator Aldrich indignantly denied that the committee had consulted the sugar trust or that it had bought or sold a share of sugar stock. Of course a man who would do such a thing would lie out of it if possible, but he should be made to do so under oath and then be indicted for perjury.

The court of appeals continues to over itself in public estimation by reversing itself. Its latest performance was in the whisky tax cases, in which it holds now that the payment must be paid to the auditor and not to the sheriff, as it held before. As at present constituted the court is not much above the average magistrate's court in intelligence and legal ability and is fast losing the little respect people have for it.

THE Sultan of Turkey has notified this government that he objects to receiving the Angell sent as minister to that country. He doesn't like the name to begin with nor his religion which is intensely hostile to the Mahomedan. It is hardly probable that this country will consult the Sultan on the subject, especially since it wants some excuse to go over there and while hades out of the heathens.

SPEAKER REED declined to submit a motion to take up the Cuban belligerence bill and an appeal was taken. Dingley moved to table the appeal and it was carried in short order, thereby showing that the Driver Reed has his wild horses well in hand. It is wonderful how tamely the republicans submit to the speaker's tyranny, but therein lies the secret of the success of that party. The members surrender to the dictation of a man in whom they have confidence. The democrats do not, each individual member believing himself a born leader and consequently will not follow when others lead.

As predicted, Commissioner Evans recommends the revocation of President Cleveland's order consolidating the pension offices and dispensing with the one at Louisville, and McKinley will doubtless do as he is bid. There are two reasons for not letting the order stand. It would save the government a great deal of money and it would diminish the number of offices to be filled by the faithful.

DR. HUNTER will not be sent to Peru. A great many people, of whom we confess we are one of which, would like to see him sent to Hell—espont, hades or some other torrid place.

POLITICS

Of the 797 acts passed by the N. Y. Legislature, the governor vetoed 350. W. H. Culton, of Jackson county, has been appointed to a $1,200 clerkship in Auditor Stone's office.

Mayor T. M. Cardwell, rep., present incumbent, was renominated for mayor of Harrodsburg Saturday by a majority of 125 over both his competitors. Gov. Bradley vetoed the resolution allowing the widow of Senator Salyer to draw her per diem, mileage, etc., up to the time her husband's successor qualified.

Col. Robert P. Jacobs says Judge M. C. Saufley will carry Boyle county at the November election, by a good majority, no matter who may be his opponent.—Harrodsburg Sayings.

Gov. Bradley has refused to approve the excessive April pay roll for the warden and employees at the Eddyville penitentiary because it exceeds the limit by a considerable amount.

Speaking of the resolution appropriating $300 to ministers Gov. Bradley says the redemption of any member of the Kentucky Legislature "would destroy the whole plan of salvation."

At the primary in Boyle Saturday this democratic ticket of good men was selected: Judge, W. H. Prewitt; Clerk, J. B. Nichols; Circuit Clerk, Will J. Price; Sheriff, George W. Coulter; Attorney, Robert Harding; Assessor, John B. Harris; School Superintendent, John W. Rawlings; Jailer, F. M. Shumate. W. E. Grubbs, free silver candidate for magistrate in the city precinct, was nominated by a big majority.

It is said that over 1,200 votes were cast, about the full democratic strength and there is much rejoicing.

DECORATION DAY

BEAUTIFULLY OBSERVED BY MEXICAN FEDERAL AND CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

Memorial Day was observed here Saturday, instead of yesterday, as is provided when the regular day occurs on Sunday. A large number besides the old soldiers of the Mexican, Federal and Confederate armies, were in the procession to the Cemetery, which was preceded by the Stanford Brass Band, and which did itself proud in the music it rendered. The line was formed in front of the court-house and extended almost from town to the Cemetery. Arriving there, Prof. T. M. Goodknight, who was master of ceremonies, spoke briefly and introduced Col. T. P. Hill as the orator of the day. He was in fine trim and voice and as he recounted the privations, the deeds of valor and the victories of the three armies represented before him, he fired the hearts of his hearers and made the old fellows glad that they served their country so faithfully and well. Wars are fearful and costly undertakings, but the speaker declared that they were worth all they cost, since they brought us freedom and independence and settled questions that could only be done by the sword. He referred feelingly to the peace and good will now prevailing, when men who fought each other in deadly battle now met together to decorate the graves of comrades who fell on both sides. This evidence of fraternal feeling was being manifested all over the country and is proof of a re-united people, who stand shoulder to shoulder for the good of a common country and who would fight no more except under the same flag. The speech was in the color of his happiest vein and was enjoyed by the large crowd, which gave it the closest attention.

Rev. R. R. Noel, himself a gallant Confederate, offered a feeling prayer and pronounced the benediction, after which the old soldiers, assisted by fair hands, decorated the graves of their comrades, who

Sleep their last sleep
And have fought their last battle,
No sound can awake them to glory again.

The Federal soldiers who marched in the parade were Thomas Oaks, Larken Vanhook, J. T. O'Hair, W. H. Parsons, Peter Straub, Sr., J. R. Alford, Wm. Long, James Stapleton, Granville Halley, John Brackett, S. D. Van Pelt, J. F. Mills, J. W. Adams, Sidney Dunbar, A. D. Root, Frank Foley, G. W. Goodrich, H. C. Rupley, James Farmer, Joseph Ballou, David Cloyd, Thomas N. Grayson, Joseph Kidd, Joel Adams, John Hansell, Isaac Stapleton, Andrew Rutherford, Moses Berry, G. B. McBee, J. F. Rigney, Robert Barnett, A. C. Carson, Adam F. Rigney, W. R. Kirk, Squire John Ellis, Wm. Terry, Joe Carson, Isaac Elliott, J. W. Brummett, D. C. Good, Thomas Smith, Geo. Patton.

The gallant old Confederates were as follows: T. L. Sheltor, G. W. DeBord, T. M. Goodknight, Capt. Thos. Richards, H. Pendleton, M. J. Brough, Geo. P. Bright, J. A. Givens, Cam Duncun, Geo. S. Carpenter, John F. Cash, J. C. Hays.

Of the hundred men who went to the Mexican war from Stanford, only five were present. J. T. Harris, J. L. Bosley, Wm. Burton, J. B. Dickinson and Reuben Williams. None of them are under 70 and Mr. Dickinson is 82.

Messrs. S. D. VanPelt and F. M. Mills, of the Wellington Harlan Post, 175 Danville, were present.

Capt. George H. McKinney was chief commander and with the sword of Capt. W. F. McKinney, recovered a few years ago, and in his G. A. R. uniform, looked decidedly soldierly and seemed to be in his glory. Somebody remarked that if a call was made for men to go to Cuba, the captain would be the first man to volunteer, although he is past the allotted span of life.

Elder Joseph Ballou's prayer in the opening exercises was a model of patriotic and powerful petition to the Supreme Ruler of nations and the giver of the manifold blessings that we enjoy.

The bus full of young ladies with their laps full of flowers, whose beauty was rivaled by the pretty faces of those who had them, presented a picture of loveliness which will be worth many dollars to Photographer Earp, if his camera caught even a semblance of it.

There are buried in Buffalo Cemetery soldiers of three wars:

Of the revolutionary: Adam Pence.
Of the Mexican: T. L. Carter, T. T. Davies, James Paxton, Harvey Helm and Tom Hughes.

Confederate: A. L. Hale, Col. Whalen, Stephen Burch, Henry Baughman, Porter Crow, James Cash, A. K. Denny, Levi Hubble, Samuel Matheny, Wm. H. Miller, Stephen S. Myers, Col. Thomas W. Napier, John O. Neal, John H. Shanks, Thomas H. Shanks.

SKIDMORE.—Welch Skidmore, the father of the well-known men of that name, died yesterday, aged 96. He leaves five sons and three daughters, Mrs. Granville Mereshon being one of the latter.

THE other churches will have no services next Sunday morning on account of the commencement sermon at the Presbyterian church.

FREIGHT 42 was derailed near Science Hill on the Q. & C. Engineer Gaylin was fatally hurt and Bruckman Ford had his collar bone broken.

COMPLAINT is being made by lot owners in Buffalo Cemetery of flowers being taken, and this little notice is in the nature of a warning. A hint to the wise should be sufficient.

News Briefly Told

It has been decided that the law repealing prohibition in South Dakota is legal.

William T. Powers and John Lattimore, both colored, were hanged at Chicago for murder.

The anarchist who attempted to stab King Humbert of Italy, was sentenced to the galleys for life.

Four more men were arrested in Bath county, charged with taking part in the raid at Garner's toll gate.

Rev. Wm. Johns died in great agony at Chestertown, Md., after hiccoughing incessantly for two weeks.

A man at Kingston, N. Y., threatens to commit suicide because he believes he is the ugliest man in the world.

Hon. Whitelaw Reid has accepted the post of special ambassador from the United States to the queen's jubilee.

Two thousand people are homeless at El Paso, Tex., by reason of the flood in the Rio Grande. The river is still rising.

Fitzsimmons has declined for the present an offer of a $15,000 purse for a fight with Joe Goddard, the Australian.

Tom Howard, a Columbus, O., convict, cut his throat with a spoon he had beaten out and sharpened for the purpose.

David Alger, of Muncie, Ind., committed suicide when he heard that his sister was an inmate of a house of ill-repute.

Miss Emma Lutz, of New Castle, Pa., shot her guest, Miss Minnie Leach, to death with a gun which she didn't know was loaded.

The cigarette habit caused Henry Hogan, of Columbus, Miss., who was attending a business college at Nashville, to commit suicide.

Bank Wrecker John F. Johnson was sentenced at Indianapolis to 10 years' imprisonment. His crime was discovered less than 10 days ago.

The Wall Paper Trust has won a suit in New York before the United States circuit court of appeals involving the invalidity of $38,000,000 of its stock.

A peddler who was spending the night at a widow's house near Clarksville, Tenn., killed two out of five burglars who attempted to rob the house.

Booker Taylor, aged 8, was instantly killed with an old musket by Walter Morris, just 15, at Paducah. Morris claims that the killing was accidental.

MT. VERNON.

T. J. Cress has withdrawn his application for the public school at Mt. Vernon on account of personal reasons and to avoid making lasting enemies of personal friends. He hopes that the matter may be adjusted peaceably and satisfactorily all around now, as he is out.

Miss Ida May Adams and Mr. Edgar Albright received their diplomas at the Institute Wednesday from Rev. L. M. Seroggs, who has labored so faithfully here during the past year. A large number of our citizens attended the exercises. The opera by the children was well rendered. Little Miss Risse Williams, as "Grandma," won encomiums, while little Misses Lella May Lovell and Bessie Sparks were "just too sweet."

Court continues in session this week. The juries are trying the prisoners out with light punishment or none at all. Society demands a stricter enforcement of the law and less sentimentality in the court-room. Jurymen must not allow their sympathies to be played upon by the oily tongues of attorneys. Judge Morrow is not to blame for this lax condition of affairs, but packed juries and bribed witnesses are what are ruining the prospects of our country. The ministers of the gospel should begin a crusade against crime and drunkenness.

A CARD.

I desire to return my thanks to the Salmagundi Club of Mt. Vernon for its complimentary but undeserved mention of me in your last issue. One of the deepest regrets at leaving my old home was the severing of my connection with the club and its excellent members.

WANTED.—To trade Louisville property for a blue-grass farm in Lincoln. Carl Hansen, Force Ave., Louisville.

WILD CATS.—Phil Soden sent his father-in-law, Col. W. Huff Dunderar, two young wild cats which that gentleman will use as pets.

T. J. TETER is making a capital section and Buffalo Cemetery looks as clean as a new pin since he has mowed off the grass and trimmed up the shrubbery.

THE suit of the administrator of Owensley Evans vs. Southern Railway Co., to recover $30,000 for the killing of Evans, is set for trial Tuesday, 1st.—Woodford Sun.

A LOOSE wheel caused six cars of freight train No. 31 to jump the track at Mt. Vernon Saturday. Nobody was hurt and not a great amount of damage was done.

THE Crab Orchard boys came down Friday, but it rained so hard the ball game was not called and they went home without the pangs of defeat disturbing them.

THANKS.—Mr. J. T. Hackley has the thanks of the business manager for several crates of his excellent strawberries, which take the cake both for size and sweetness.

RESIGNED.—Judge Willis Barnett has resigned as a member of the democratic county committee and will be a candidate for magistrate. His successor will be elected at Rowland Saturday afternoon, June 12th.

THE Somerset Reporter says that John Paul, who committed suicide in that city a few weeks ago, left in his papers ticket No. 56, which drew the horse pulled off by Green Lidebottom. Paul has no heirs and the horse will be swapped for a tombstone which will be placed over his grave.

THE Stanford and Hustonville second nines played a game of ball here Saturday, which resulted in a score of 15 to 12 in favor of the former club. Sam Embury and George Florence did the battery work for the home team and Howard Canantz and Frank Lusk held down similar positions for the visitors. The feature of the game was the large number of scores on each side.

DANVILLE was the only town in Kentucky represented at the Mayville convention in the interest of Col. Boone's Black Diamond railroad and it had only one delegate, Editor H. E. Woodfolk. He met and resolved himself into a convention and passed resolutions that the road would be a mighty good thing if it could be made to run on the ground instead of on paper. He then declared himself adjourned and wrote a very readable and interesting account of the performance for the Advocate.

HAPPY JACK.—Consul J. H. Miller writes to Dr. Spratt, of Mt. Sterling, from the far off Falkland Islands and the Sentinel-Democrat publishes extracts from the letter. Among other things Happy Jack says that "All the roses are not on our land. The world is full of them, but the birds sing sweetest, the flowers bloom richest, the sun shines brightest on the bonny banks of Dix River, five miles from Stanford, Lincoln county, Ky., about a mile from Dunderar's Mill. There is no place like home."

THE program of Central University commencement exercises is one of the handsomest things of the kind that we have ever seen. It is engraved throughout and printed on parchment paper with fac similes of the graduates' signatures, of whom there are 11. Rev. J. J. Chisholm will preach the Baccalaureate sermon next Sunday and Rev. T. M. Hawes will deliver an address in behalf of the Y. M. C. A. The preparatory commencement exercises will be held at 10 A. M. on the 7th and at 7:30 P. M. Walter Scott Bronston will deliver the alumni address. The Alumni Association will meet June 8th at 3 P. M. and at 7:30 the junior oratorical contest will occur. The regular commencement exercises will be held at 10 A. M. on the 9th.

FLOWER CROCKS and hardliners of all kinds at Warren & Shanks.

HURT.—Edward Cooper, son of Mr. G. B. Cooper, was painfully hurt near Hustonville Friday by the horse he was riding rearing and falling back on him. It was almost a miracle that he escaped being killed.

RESIGNED.—J. E. Lynn has resigned the office of magistrate to make an active canvass for county judge. It is to be hoped that Judge Dawson can find as good a man to take his place and we suggest for his consideration, Mr. R. L. Porter.

FLOYD.—John Floyd, aged 75, died at his home near Waynesburg last week, of measles. He was a splendid old gentleman and had been a member of the Baptist church for nearly 50 years. Besides his wife, several grown children survive him.

MAY ended yesterday with one of the coldest records within memory. Fires and overcoat were in demand three-fourths of the month. Summer begins today and we shall likely soon hear that silly interrogatory: "Is it hot enough for you?"

SAME SIZE.—Mr. E. J. Calton, of Crab Orchard, tells us that he will get the republican nomination for county attorney and that he will make it hot for Hon. Harvey Helm, the democratic nominee. He is six feet three inches tall, which is just the height of Mr. Helm and strange to say is exactly the same weight of that gentleman—195 pounds. Mr. Calton is a monstrous clever man but it will be a case of chasing butterflies with him against Mr. Helm.

STANFORD must be a terrible wicked place. Notwithstanding that a holiness revival of long duration has but recently closed there, a delegation of 26 young ministers from Wilmore went there Thursday to carry on the war indefinitely.—Advocate. Not so wicked as you might suppose, though she makes no especial pretensions to goodness. It can be truly said of her, however, that she is not Pharisaical as is one of her neighbors, nor does any of her citizens imagine himself as good as Jesus Christ, much less better, as has been said of those whom the Advocate represents.

FIGHT.—There was a row and a rum-pus at Rowland Saturday, when Messrs. Hugh Seargent and Walter Warren met there. The first named had sued the latter on an account due the Preachersville pike and before the trial words brought on blows. The gentlemen were separated, but later on got together when Warren landed a stiff right on Seargent's nose sending him down a short flight of steps. Constable Peyton and Judge Barnett arrested both of them and at the trial Warren was fined $8. Mr. Seargent claims that his antagonist used brass knuckles, but the officers found none when they searched him, we are told.

WON HONORS.—In the Blue-Grass Tournament at Harrodsburg, Miss Nellie Mershon, daughter of Mr. John B. Mershon, of this place, won the medal for Trigonometry over a field of contestants. She represented Caldwell College at Richmond. James T. Mcneef represented Prof. Duffy's school here in the oratorical contest and recited "The Tell-Tale Heart" very creditably, but failed to win the prize although he got one vote for it. It was won by Isaac Holman, of Lawrenceburg, whose subject was, "The Silent Voice." James M. Saufley was ruled out of the contest, or the result of it might have been different.

ACCIDENTS.—Jesse R. Routt, who spent Sunday with his parents in the West End, gives us the following items: As Mrs. Squire John Bailey and son, Wesley, were driving to Danville a few days ago their horse leaped over the bridge over Knab Lick and overturned the buggy. Mrs. Bailey was thrown violently to the ground and besides being badly bruised one of her arms was broken in two places. Mr. Bailey escaped with a few slight bruises.

Mrs. Wilson Gooch, who is over 60 years old, fell while attending to her horse work and broke one of her thighs. Her advanced age will make her entire recovery doubtful.

OLD PAPER.—Mrs. Mary Burch showed us yesterday a copy of the Western Citizen, which she found in the papers of her father, Samuel Allison, and which was printed at Paris Christmas, 1824. It has the message of President James Monroe delivered to Congress on the 4th of the same month and in an editorial paragraph says the great length of the message excludes nearly all other matters. Henry Clay was presiding over the Kentucky House at the time and the question of removing certain appellate judges was under discussion. The vote on removing Benjamin Mills was 61 to 39, Mr. Clay voting in the affirmative. There are advertisements of "Bear Baitings," runaway Negroes, hiring and sales of Negroes and notices of public patrollers, &c., but not a line of local news.

IN Louisville yesterday there was dedicated with impressive ceremonies in Cave Hill Cemetery a massive blue limestone monument to Gen. Lovell Harrison Rousseau, who was born in Lincoln county, Aug. 4, 1818. He was legislator, Congressman and soldier, rising in the late war from captain to brevet Major-general.

REV. HENRY MILLER, of Middleboro, preached two fine sermons at the Presbyterian church Sunday. He is shortly to give up his charge and become a special evangelist of his Presbytery. His duties will require him to move to this section and we trust that inducements may be held out to have him to come here.

THERE are 365 cases on the docket of the circuit court, which begins next Monday, we learn from James P. Bailey, the efficient clerk. Of these there are 12 Commonwealth, 13 ordinary appearances, 8 equity do., 33 ordinary and 139 old equity. There is no murder case and but one suit for divorce, that of Wm. Cooley against his wife, Mrs. Eddie Cooley.

THE Knights of Pythias lodge elected Thursday night the following officers: J. S. Rice, Chancellor-Commander; J. F. Cummins, Vice-Chancellor; Geo. B. Wearen, Prelate; Dolph Rice, Master at Arms; Churchill Yeager, Master of Work; John Meier, Keeper Records and Seal; Dr. W. B. O'Bannon, Master of Exchequer; Charles H. Hayden, Master of Finance; Representatives to Grand Lodge, Joe F. Waters, B. H. Danks, C. E. Tate and W. H. Wearen.

THE Rodes Lackey Post, colored, G. A. R., turned out 50 strong yesterday and with banners flying and the Rometown brass band playing marched to the cemetery and decorated the graves of their six comrades buried there. The procession was a long one and included a large number of little boys with flags and sashes, and a hay wagon full of girls with flowers. Hon. Geo. W. Gentry and Commander of the Post T. A. M. Burdett were the orators of the day. The whole business was exceedingly creditable to all concerned.

THE Ladies' Circle, of which Mrs. E. B. Knox is president, was also in line. Wm. Cook is Commander of the Sons of Veterans, which number 50.

AT CRAB ORCHARD.—Yesterday was a gala day at Crab Orchard and a big crowd was on hand to witness the decoration day exercises. The quaint old town had on her best garb and flags and bunting decorated many houses. Headed by the Stanford band the old soldiers and their friends marched to the beautiful cemetery on the hill where a half hundred or more of their comrades were buried and after appropriate exercises by Post Commander Patton and Chaplain Noakes, and timely speeches by John Sam Owsley, Jr. and J. T. O'Hair, decorated the graves with a profusion of flowers that the good women of the East End had furnished. This completed, they marched back to town, broke ranks and an hour or so was spent at dinner at various hospitable homes, whose late strings always hung on the out side. At 2 o'clock the soldiers repaired to the Baptist church and were entertained for several hours by speeches by Hon. Harvey Helm, Eld. Partin and others. The day was a successful one in every sense and will be remembered for years to come as one of the most pleasant occasions of the kind in the history of the Crab Orchard G. A. R. Post and the good feeling brought about by it will live long after the majority of those who took part shall have gone to their reward.

THE young preachers' meeting at the Methodist church is in strictest sense a red hot affair. Several of the embryo divines can give Rev. Andrew Johnson two in the game and beat him in fervor of manner and loudness of ejaculation. They seem to be a most earnest and consecrated crowd and as they make all their noise in the meetinghouse it is nobody's business especially and you do not have to go there unless you want to. Between services you would not know they were in town so quiet and unobtrusive are they in demeanor. Several of them are fine preachers. Messrs. W. G. Cram, W. S. Maxwell and C. H. Neal especially so. By the way, the latter is to take Rev. W. S. Trafton's place on this circuit the balance of the conference year, while he goes on a visit to his old home at New Brunswick, Canada. Some of the young men got after us in their testimonies for saying their mouths were set for fried chicken, but they did not deny the soft impeachment. The meetings will continue till Sunday night with services three times a day, two at the church and one in the afternoon at 3 o'clock in front of the court house.

The three services Sunday were largely attended and standing room was in demand. There were 25 or 30 from Danville, a number from Hustonville and the other neighboring towns were represented. Five or six Danville people said they had "it," meaning sanctification, one of whom said he got it through the preaching of "the Hon. L. M. Lasky." The singing is a very delightful feature of the meeting, the young men having good voices and throwing their whole soul into the songs.
